survey than a definitive guide.
There are discussions on specific subjects, composition, depth of field, exposure, and lighting. All of these are axiomatic once you look at your photographs.

Close up photography is the act of photographing objects such as flowers or insects in close range so the subject you are photographing fills the frame. In other words, it's the act of photographing subjects close up. This is easily achievable with any lens, even a 300mm telephoto lens. Macro photography is in essence close up photography as well.
